About SCIC

We are a new generation development consulting company based in London. We undertake extensive research on social, environmental, economic and political development challenges in the mix. We undertake the crafting of integrated development strategies for implementation; and provide advice to governments, businesses and individuals focusing on needs and peculiarities of the customer. Our key drivers are high ethical values, quality and social enterprise.

Become a consultant to your organisation through strategic thinking – developing a dynamic business plan

Introduction

Very commonly you hear that those who “fail to plan, plan to fail”. At Strategic Consulting and Implementation Consortium Ltd, we go further than that. For us it is about the quality of the plan and the intention of the plan as it relates to objectives. Businesses are continuously driven by objectives in an increasingly uncertain and variable environment. This is the nature of the real world of business in which nothing is certain but uncertainty. This course simulates real situations in developing business plans for implementation in dynamic environments. A business plan is no good if it is not implementable. The bottom-up approach to business plans support a system-wide acceptance and facilitates proper implementation.

Objectives

This training is designed to help managers and business leaders understand and use analytical tools necessary to develop a good business plan that can be implemented by their organisation going forward to achieve organisational success. It is designed to expose participants to test assumptions and provide basis for business plans and strategies for their implementation as their environment may determine. This training will provide some answers to why some ‘good’ plans fail.

Who will benefit?

Managers, senior managers and executives charged with the responsibility of developing and implementing business and strategic plans for their units and at corporate levels.

Expected benefits to participants

- Good knowledge and understanding of business planning analytical tools
- Acquire strategic thinking ability required to critique and appraise a plan and remodel one
- Evaluate the likelihood of success and failure of a plan and activate exits
- Develop a business plan for implementation in your company to improve performance
