About SCIC

We are a new generation development consulting company based in London. We undertake extensive research on social, environmental, economic and political development challenges in the mix. We undertake the crafting of integrated development strategies for implementation; and provide advice to governments, businesses and individuals focusing on needs and peculiarities of the customer. Our key drivers are high ethical values, quality and social enterprise.

Training:

Administering public sector concerns – best practice and new perspectives

The public sector in many countries and especially in developing countries may be quite large and represents a significant part of the economy. It incorporates the different organs and apparatus of government and public services that they provide. Elements within the social economy (third economy) are also sometimes considered within the public sector. These elements therefore present huge resources requiring efficient administration and management. This course has been designed to provide broad overview and update on the dynamics in public sector policy construction, development economics and finance, the use of strategic management and management information systems tools in efficient and effective public sector administration.

Suitability

Participants should be public sector administrators and managers who are directly involved in development projects and programmes.

Duration and delivery location

The course is bespoke and proposed for 4 days in the UK. It can be organised overseas

Cost

The cost of packaged training for groups of 10 will cover lodging, feeding, course materials, tutorials and 4 days London city transportation including airport pickup. Please contact us to negotiate a quote.
