About SCIC

We are a new generation development consulting company based in London. We undertake extensive research on social, environmental, economic and political development challenges in the mix. We undertake the crafting of integrated development strategies for implementation; and provide advice to governments, businesses and individuals focusing on needs and peculiarities of the customer. Our key drivers are high ethical values, quality and social enterprise.

Training:

Assessing and improving quality and performance in the public sector

This training has been developed using the balanced scorecard approach in helping the public sector (in resource constrained environments) improve on the delivery of services at reduced costs while not compromising on quality. The training uses non financial and financial performance matrices in the management of public finances seen from the perspective of investing in deliverables that in turn ensure system growth and survivability with potential for continuous returns on public finances from tax income well into the future. The course exposes the triple bottom-line as important public performance measurement, looking at public sector finances and budgets.

Suitability

Participants should be managers in public sector organisations, those in charge of developing strategies and internal control.

Duration and delivery location

4 days in the UK. It can be organised overseas

Cost

The cost of packaged training for groups of 10 will cover lodging, feeding, course materials, tutorials and 4 days London city transportation including airport pickup. Please contact us to negotiate a quote.
