About SCIC

We are a new generation development consulting company based in London. We undertake extensive research on social, environmental, economic and political development challenges in the mix. We undertake the crafting of integrated development strategies for implementation; and provide advice to governments, businesses and individuals focusing on needs and peculiarities of the customer. Our key drivers are high ethical values, quality and social enterprise.

Training:

Remodeling development – bottom-up approach

This course has been carefully packaged for developing countries with emphasis on harnessing, mobilising and empowering vast redundant population to achieve integration and spread in development that is sustainable. The course provides guidance to gender balancing and empowerment strategies; youth development and empowerment strategies; strategies for strengthening local governments and voluntary community organisations; and building systemic multipliers through micro-entrepreneurship. This is an introductory course that would expose opportunities for further training in employment generation and micro-entrepreneurship.

Suitability

Participants should be individuals involved in development planning. Individuals involved in crafting strategies for development and those involved in strategic analysis for the state government.
